There has been licensed since April 1st. 1893, 70 dogs; 61 males and 9 females, for which I have collected and paid the Treasurer $88.00. There has been received since Jan. 1, 1892, 20 marriages, 29 births and 32 deaths. You will see by reading sect. 17, chapt 118 of the laws of 1891 that it gives the clerk 15 cts. for recording every marriage, birth and death. I have made no charge for that and charged the town the same it has always paid me.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Supervisor of Schools.

As this is the town's first experience in supporting a High School, we should not be too severe in our criticism if every thing has not been done as it should have been. The school year being from June 1 to June 1, it was decided to open the school with the fall term, Sept. 11. It has been under the charge of A. B. Libby, a college graduate and a teacher of considerable experience. Mr. Libby came to the place with the best of recommendations and that he was deserving of such has been fully proved by a faithful performance of his tasks which were necessarily more laborious than they would have been had the school been of long standing. At the end of the first term a course of study was arranged and the winter term began with the school well organized. From the first, the pupils have shown themselves interested and done good work. There will be a class to graduate at the end of the year, which fact adds greatly to the interest of the school.

I do not see how there can justly be any dissatisfaction with the progress which the school has made thus far, and we all ought to feel proud in having this higher institution for learning in our midst. It has afforded advantages to many who would otherwise have been deprived of the same, and shows to the world that our citizens are alive to the educational interests of the town. I sincerely hope the High School will continue to be an object of pride and that it will receive the hearty support of every voter in Denmark. Thanks of the town are due the Centre District for financial aid to the school also for the use of the school building.

It seems unnecessary to say anything concerning the teachers individually, as, with two exceptions, the schools have been under the charge of those who have previously taught in town. In most of the districts the same teacher has been retained during the year and I believe that the success of our schools is due in a great measure to this fact. None of the schools have been crowded with pupils, and in some the attendance has been too small to insure much interest to either teacher or scholars, but regarding them as a whole I feel confident that there has been an average degree of advancement in the schoolwork of this year.

There is the same old complaint to be made about the lack in some of the schoolhouses of those necessities, blackboards, maps, etc., but let us hope that under the new law these deficiencies will be supplied and that our schools may be much improved.

Respectfully submitted,

MILDRED BEAN,

Supervisor of Schools.
